Grand Forks, N.D., is a classic university town. Located in the heart of the Red River Valley on Interstate 29, the largely residential town offers a community environment with all the amenities of a large urban area and the safety and convenience of a small community, and is within driving distance of great amenities in the region.

Grand Forks has outdoor activities for every season:

- 900 acres of park land with trails, sports fields and courts, lakes, playground equipment.
- The Greenway - 2,200 acres along the Red River
- Twenty miles from Turtle River State Park.
- Five golf courses including King's Walk, the only PGA-rated golf course in North Dakota.
- One-of-a-kind Japanese Garden at Sertoma Park.

Greater Grand Forks is an impressively cosmopolitan city, boasting a regional population of roughly 75,000 residents and spanning two states. Because of its diversity, there's always live theatre, musical performances, art shows or a concert from rock to the Grand Forks Symphony somewhere in Grand Forks:

- Alerus Center
- Empire Arts Center
- Ralph Engelstad Arena complex
- Fire Hall Theatre
- The North Dakota Museum of Art
- Chester Fritz Auditorium
- Grand Cities Art Fest
- First Night Celebration

Wherever one lives in Grand Forks, great shops and restaurants are always within a short distance. Additional commercial growth has sprouted at the southwest end of the city, anchored by the Columbia Mall and Market Place. However, the heart of the Grand Cities is downtown, which spans the Red River. Downtown features a large variety of options and events, from a Farmer's Market at the Town Square to fine dining.

A frenzied crowd of 12,431 packed the 2009 home opener against South Dakota, the largest season-opening crowd in Alerus Center history.

BETTY ENGELSTAD SIOUX CENTER

The Betty Engelstad Sioux Center (left and below) opened in August 2004 and is home to the UND volleyball and basketball teams, while also housing the Fighting Sioux women's soccer locker room and offices.

One of the premiere arenas of its kind in the country, the Sioux Center has a capacity of approximately 3,300. There are 2,600 seats with molded chair backs, 700 telescopic bleacher seats and additional seating in the VIP area.

APOLLO SPORTS COMPLEX

HYSLOP SPORTS CENTER

Over the many years, the Hyslop Sports Center (above and right) has served a number of different functions. Today it houses the athletic administration offices, the athletic academic study center, the swimming and diving pool, weight room, coaching offices and locker room facilities.

CENTER COURT FITNESS CLUB

Center Court Fitness Club (above), which is owned and operated by the Grand Forks Park District, is the home of the UND women's tennis team. The facility has five indoor regulation tennis courts.

Construction has also begun on the future home of UND tennis, the $25 million Choice Health and Fitness Club. Once completed, the facility will feature six indoor courts and six outdoor illuminated courts. The projected completion date is Fall 2012.

BRONSON FIELD

Bronson Field (above) has been the home of North Dakota women's soccer since the team's inception in 1999. The natural grass field is located on campus, west of the UND bookstore and part of the Ralph Engelstad Arena sports complex. A second practice field is located just east of the Ralph Engelstad Arena.

KING'S WALK GOLF COURSE

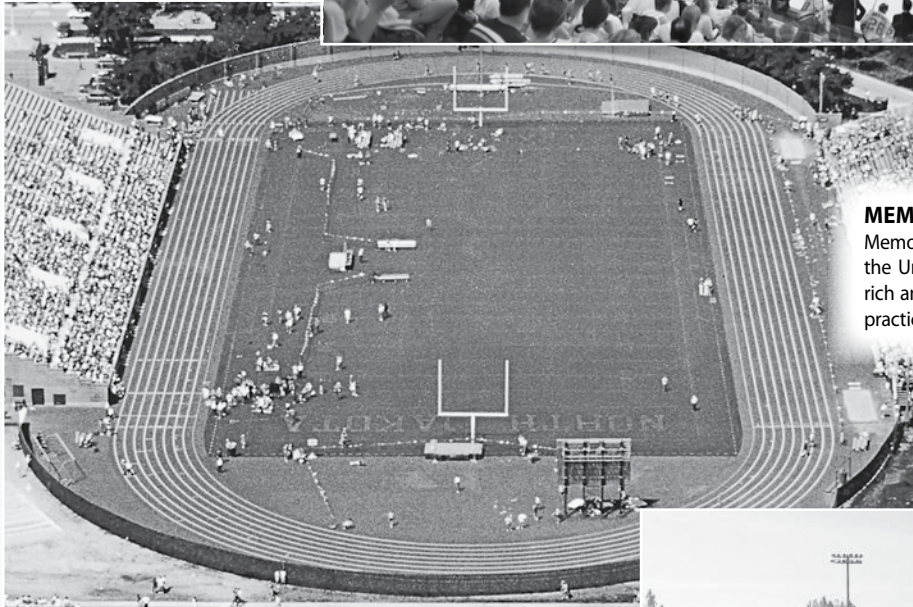

King's Walk Golf Course (left) is the home to the University of North Dakota men's and women's golf teams. The Arnold Palmer-designed course recreates the atmosphere found on the great links courses of Scotland and Ireland.

RALPH ENGELSTAD ARENA

The most visited tourist destination in North Dakota, the new Ralph Engelstad Arena (above and right) has become widely regarded as the finest hockey facility in the world. The premiere home to college hockey, the Engelstad Arena has just about everything.

As soon as fans enter the doors, they know they are in the Fighting Sioux hockey arena. Seven NCAA and 14 WCHA championship banners hang proudly from the rafters.

The North Dakota baseball team plays its home games at Kraft Field, a facility owned and operated by the Grand Forks Park District that includes bleacher seating for 2,000 in a picturesque setting with evergreens lining the outfield fences. The facility recently received a new artificial infield prior to the 2011 season.

UND's Academic Awards Night in February honored 244 student-athletes who achieved either a 3.0 GPA during the fall semester or a cumulative 3.0 through the Fall 2010 semester. More than half of UND's student-athletes achieved this high honor, including 46 who owned a perfect 4.0 GPA.

NOTABLE ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENTS IN 2010-11

- UND placed 110 student-athletes on the Great West Conference (GWC) and Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA) all-academic teams, including a team-record 16 men's hockey student-athletes.
- UND's student-athletes owned a collective 3.089 GPA in 2010-11.
- Sixty-four percent of UND's student-athletes boasted a 3.0 GPA during the spring semester alone.
- Former softball and hockey standout Casie Hanson was one of eight national recipients of the prestigious NCAA Top VIII Award.
- Junior goalie Brad Eidsness received the NCAA Elite 88 Award for men's hockey.
- UND's women's golf program received public recognition from the NCAA for its outstanding multiyear Academic Progress Rate (APR). UND's APR ranked in the top 10 percent of all Division I women's golf programs, which accounts for the 2006-07 through 2009-10 academic years.
- The women's swimming and diving program ranked fourth among the 89 NCAA Division I teams named to the 2010 College Swim Coaches Association of America (CSCAA) Scholar All America Team in February.

The George and Arlene Schubert Athletics Academic Center provides a comfortable and centrally-located site to aid in the promotion of academics for all student-athletes.

UND athletics prides itself on the academic excellence of its student-athletes, whose athletic achievements are matched by academic distinction on a yearly basis.

The George and Arlene Schubert Athletics Academic Center, which opened in April 2008, serves as a study center for student-athletes and is conveniently located in the Hyslop Sports Center.

Academic services director Amanda Hajdu oversees the study center, which features 12 state-of-the-art, desktop computers and provides an excellent location for student-athletes to utilize between classes for valuable daytime study. The academic center is also available on demand to student-athletes for evening study table.

UND's student-athletes also have access to a variety of laptop computers for use on road trips, further emphasizing a department-wide commitment to academics.

UND established its academic reputation with 65 all-time Academic All-Americans at the Division II level, fourth-most all-time among DII schools.

Rory Manke, pictured with UND President Dr. Robert Kelley (left) and athletics director Brian Faison, was a two-time Academic All-American and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient.

The foundation of UND athletics is the unwavering passion of Fighting Sioux fans, the nation's best.

"I've never been to a place that's more proud of its athletes and its athletics than UND."

— Former UND All-American, 2010 United States Olympian and current New Jersey Devils star Zach Parise

Nate Baukol
Director of Strength and Conditioning

MISSION

It is our mission to physically and mentally prepare the student-athlete for the rigors of collegiate athletics, by implementing professionally designed, scientifically sound training programs, designed specifically to reduce the incidence of injury and help each team and student-athlete reach their full athletic potential.

PHILOSOPHY

We believe that strength and conditioning is crucial to the complete development of the student-athlete. The philosophy of our strength and conditioning program is based on the belief that what occurs in the weight room and field transfers to the playing surface. We train sport specifically with the goal of enhancing athleticism. We also believe in the importance of work ethic, attitude, accountability and mental toughness and that these qualities can be developed and enhanced through our strength and conditioning program.

At the University of North Dakota, one program, functioning behind the scenes, but which should not be taken lightly, is the strength and conditioning program. The strength and conditioning program at UND is among the finest in Division I and vital to the success of all UND athletic teams. The strength and conditioning staff commits themselves to the development of size, strength, power, speed, agility, conditioning, and body composition of each student-athlete. The goal of the strength staff is to develop the athlete and team to reach their maximum potential throughout their career while staying injury free.

Nate Baukol, director of strength and conditioning, oversees the program and facilities. Baukol has three full-time assistant coaches and one graduate assistant coach to assist him.

Together they direct and monitor the training of over 400 student-athletes in 20 sports at UND. UND also boasts some of the finest strength training facilities around. The facilities include weight rooms at the Ralph Engelstad Arena, the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center, Memorial Stadium, and the Hyslop Sports Center.

Training has become a year-round activity, with a student athlete spending as much time on physical development as any other part of their sport throughout the year. Student-athletes follow either off-season or in-season programs, which are individualized specific to the athlete and sport. Off-season programs are five days a week, summer months included.

Each athlete receives a comprehensive summer training manual to follow, given that a member of the strength staff won't be supervising them. In-season programs are typically 45-minute sessions, two to three days per week, supervised by the strength and conditioning staff.

Steve Westereng
Director of Sports Medicine

One of the unfortunate aspects of athletics is that injuries do occur. However, every student-athlete from UND athletic teams are under excellent care thanks to the UND Division of Sports Medicine and its umbrella of staff, facilities and training.

With a staff of 11 faculty athletic trainers, three graduate assistant athletic trainers and 30 athletic training students headed by director of sports medicine Steve Westereng, UND student-athletes are in good hands, returning them quickly and safely to participation.

The UND Division of Sports Medicine was formed in 1990. Additionally, the bachelor of science in athletic training degree and the UND Center for Sports Medicine was founded. The athletic training education program was the first program in the nation to be placed directly in a school of medicine and is housed within the Department of Family Medicine, combining the efforts of the UND Athletic Training program and the UND School of Medicine and Health Sciences.

UND's progressive thinking makes the institution a leader in the field of athletic training. Moreover, the program's affiliation with the School of Medicine helps both the athletic training student and the student-athlete. Completion of the bachelor of science in athletic training allows the student to sit for the board of certification exam to become a certified athletic trainer (ATC).

The student-athletes also benefit from having a wealth of competent individuals getting them back into action.

In order to be accepted into the athletic training program, a student must complete 100 hours of observation, fill out a formal application, and have a minimum GPA of 2.75.

The Division of Sports Medicine also has an outpatient facility, the UND Center for Sports Medicine, which specializes in rehabilitation of orthopedic injuries. UND student-athletes, as well as the general public, utilize this facility to decrease pain, increase strength, and improve range of motion of injuries. Many of the injuries seen in the Center for Sports Medicine are significant, such as pre- and post-surgical issues. The center is staffed by Cathy Ziegler, PT/ATC, and Robin Tracy, PT/ATC, who have experience with high school, college, and professional athletes.

Whether it is reading to area school children or lending their time to countless charitable organizations or providing disaster relief, UND's student-athletes pride themselves on their community involvement and have long been looked upon as pillars within the UND and Grand Forks communities. In 2010-11 alone, UND student-athletes logged nearly 7,100 hours of community service.

PRESIDENT

Dr. Robert Kelley

Dr. Robert Kelley began serving as UND's 11th president July 1, 2008.

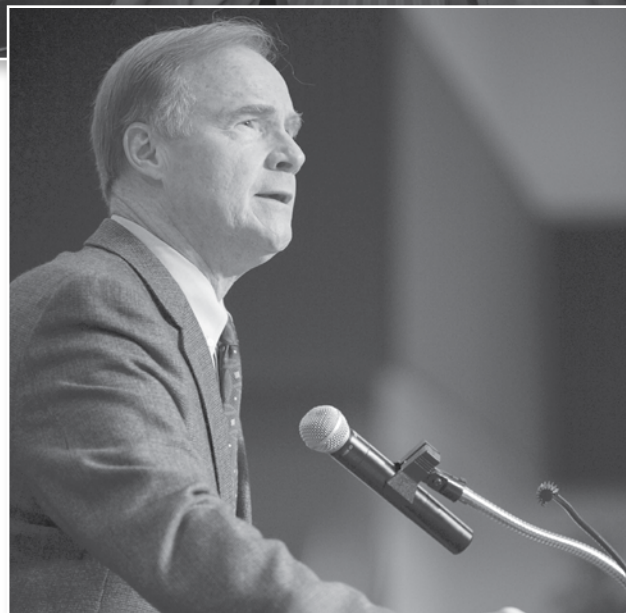

He had been dean of the College of Health Sciences and professor of medical education and public health at the University of Wyoming since 1999.

Before then, he was associate vice chancellor for research and executive associate dean of the graduate college at the University of Illinois at Chicago, and professor of biological sciences at the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and professor of anatomy and cell biology at the College of Medicine, both at the University of Illinois at Chicago. At the University of New Mexico, he served as chair of anatomy and senior executive associate dean, as well as other faculty capacities. He has also taught at the University of California, Berkeley.

Kelley earned his bachelor's degree in biology and chemistry from Abilene Christian University in Abilene, Texas, in 1965, and his master's degree in 1966 and doctorate in 1969, both in cell and developmental biology from the University of California, Berkeley.

Kelley has served as chair of the Assembly for the Association of American Medical Colleges, chaired the Council of Academic Societies for the AAMC, and was a member of the executive board of the National Board of Medical Examiners, which is responsible for the U.S. medical licensure examination. In addition, he has served the National Institutes of Health (NIH) on several study sections, served on the director's advisory board for NIH strategic planning, and chaired the Minority Biomedical Research Support Program advisory committee in the NIH Division of Research Resources. That program helped support research for historically black universities, tribal colleges, and "minority-majority" institutions. He also served as principal investigator for the University of Wyoming/Northern Rockies INBRE (IDeA Network of Biomedical Research Excellence), an NIH program which promotes biomedical research and connects the state's community colleges with the University of Wyoming.

He and his wife, Marcia, who was a lecturer in the University of Wyoming Department of Communication Disorders, have four children.

Sue Jenö, an associate professor of physical therapy, serves as the Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR) to the National Collegiate Athletics Association. She has held the position since November 2006.

Jenö has served as a member of the Intercollegiate Athletics Committee for six years and was the chair of the University Senate during the 2005-06 academic year.

Jenö is a former NCAA Division I student-athlete and coach. After competing for the University of Michigan synchronized swimming team, she graduated and served as a coach for the Wolverines for two seasons.

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Brian Faison

Brian Faison is in his fourth year as athletics director at the University of North Dakota. Faison assumed his duties at UND in May of 2008.

In leading UND Athletics through the Division I transition, alumni and fan support have continued to grow: Fighting Sioux Club and endowment giving have enjoyed another record year; volleyball had a second record-breaking season at the turnstile, while women's and men's hockey both finished second in the nation in attendance.

Competitively, UND teams again enjoyed outstanding seasons resulting in two conference regular season championships, three conference post-season tournaments championships, four conference student-athletes of the year, three All-Americans, two national players of the year, a fifth trip to the Frozen Four in the past seven years, and a second place finish in the all-sports standings of the Great West Conference.

In the classroom, student-athletes continued their tradition of academic excellence: a record number of student-athletes were named to the Athletic Director's Honor Roll for the fall and spring semesters; women's basketball, women's swimming and diving, men's track and field and men's golf were all recognized nationally for their academic performance, while UND student-athletes received the prestigious NCAA Top VIII and NCAA Elite 88 awards.

Faison helped secure membership in the Big Sky Conference for 14 of UND sports. Competition will begin with the 2012-13 school year. And, he played a leadership role in the formation of the National Collegiate Hockey Conference joining Colorado College, Denver, Miami, Minnesota Duluth and Nebraska Omaha. Conference play begins in 2013.

Prior to joining UND, Faison served as special assistant to the president for athletics development (2004-07) and director of athletics (1999-04) at New Mexico State University. Before that, he served as the director of development for the National Children's Cancer Society (1995-1999). Faison gained experience in Division I administration as the director of athletics at Indiana State University (1988-1995), assistant athletics director for development at the University of Louisville (1984-1988) and assistant athletics director for promotions and fund raising at Illinois State University (1979-1984). He also had stints as the assistant manager for athletic public relations at the University of Missouri (1978-1979) and assistant director for alumni activities at the University of Missouri (1974-1978).

Faison received his bachelor's degree in 1972 from the University of Missouri and is also a 1997 graduate of the National Planned Giving Institute.

Faison and his wife, Donna, have three sons: Jonathan, Matthew and Bradley.

Irle also spent 10 years as the Fresno State swimming and diving coach. The Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year in 1993 and 1995, 79 of her swimmers broke Fresno State school records.

Johnson is a 1983 graduate of the University of Missouri. His other stops have included Lincoln University, the University of Missouri-St. Louis, the University of Arkansas-Little Rock, Angelo State, the University of Idaho and the University of North Texas.

Scott Herring

Associate Athletics Director,
Chief Financial Officer

Scott Herring is UND's associate athletics director and chief financial officer.

Prior to coming to UND, Herring served as vice-president of basketball administration with the NBA's Orlando Magic, for which he was responsible for all day-to-day business and financial matters within basketball operations, as well as the team's salary cap and player contract issues.

Herring joined the Magic as a controller in 1988, one year before the team began play in the NBA as an expansion franchise. He was elevated to director of finance in 1994, senior director of finance, IT and administration in 1997 and became vice-president of basketball administration in 1999.

ERIC OAKLEY

Head Coach

Year: First Season

Hometown: Detroit, Mich.

Alma Mater: Eastern Michigan (2001)

University of North Dakota Athletics Director Brian Faison announced on July 21, 2011, that former Eastern Michigan University assistant coach Eric Oakley was named head coach of the Fighting Sioux softball program.

Oakley spent the previous five seasons as an assistant coach at EMU, including the past two as the program's top assistant and recruiting coordinator. He helped lead the Eagles to an NCAA Tournament appearance and a Mid-American Conference (MAC) tournament championship in 2007. He also served as EMU's interim head coach in 2010.

EMU went 26-18 last season, recording the second-best winning percentage (.591) in program history.

"We're excited to be having someone of Coach Oakley's caliber lead the UND softball program," said Faison. "Eric brings considerable coaching experience at the collegiate, high school, and elite travel levels. He has demonstrated a strong commitment to balancing academic and competitive excellence by the student-athletes in his charge."

Last season, his second as the program's pitching coach, Oakley mentored a pitching staff that placed second in the MAC in earned run average (2.78) and boasted five MAC-West Pitchers of the Week. The team's overall ERA fell significantly from 4.57 in 2010 to 3.04 in 2011.

During Oakley's five-year tenure, EMU consistently placed among the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) top 20 grade point averages, including a third-place national finish in 2007. The softball program also received the NCAA Public Recognition Award in 2011 for an Academic Progress Rate (APR) that landed in the top 10 percent of its sport.

"I'm honored to be joining the UND softball program at such an exciting time," said Oakley. "I believe this team, as well as the entire athletic department, is on the brink of unprecedented success. It thrills me to be able to work

After graduating from EMU in 2001 with a bachelor's degree in political science, Oakley's softball coaching career included several successful stints at the high school level from 1999 to 2005. He also served as head coach of the Motor City Madness Elite Travel Softball program in Detroit from 1999 to 2004, guiding more than 25 future collegiate players.

In 2006, Oakley was named head varsity softball coach at Lahser High School in Bloomfield, Mich., and in his only season led the team to its best league record (10-2) in the previous five years, as well as a district runner-up finish.

JESSICA ANHEL

Assistant Coach

Year: First Season

Hometown: Oxford, Mich.

Alma Mater: Saginaw Valley State (2010)

University of North Dakota head softball coach Eric Oakley announced that Jessica Anhel has been hired as an assistant coach for the 2012 season.

Anhel spent the 2011 season as an assistant coach at Northwest Missouri State.

"I'm thrilled to have Jessica joining our staff," Oakley said. "She will bring an enthusiasm and work ethic that will be contagious to the team. Her experience, both playing and coaching, as well as her time working camps and recruiting, will be beneficial to the program as we work to compete on the national stage. Her coaching style and philosophy should contrast and blend well with mine, and the team will benefit from our working relationship."

Anhel helped lead Northwest Missouri State to a 25-20 record last season, the program's second straight 25-win campaign. While with the Bearcats, Anhel assisted in organizing, preparing and conducting individual and team practices, training and competition. She also coordinated team travel, fundraising and recruitment.

Anhel began her coaching career in 2010 as a student assistant coach at her alma mater, Saginaw Valley State, where she worked primarily with the team's pitchers and catchers. A four-year starting catcher at SVSU, Anhel was an all-region first-team selection as a senior when she led the Cardinals to a No. 11 Division II national ranking.

Anhel earned a bachelor's degree in physical education with a minor in mathematics from SVSU, and was named to the Dean's List in each of her four years. She is currently pursuing her master's degree in education.

NORTH DAKOTA 2012 SOFTBALL SEASON OUTLOOK

The University of North Dakota softball team has made the Great West Conference championship game the previous two seasons and has set its goal for the 2012 campaign to reclaim the conference title.

After sweeping its way to its first GWC title in 2010 going 3-0 and outscoring its opponents 14-3 in those games, North Dakota fell just short of claiming back-to-back titles as it was edged 7-6 by Houston Baptist in the championship game last year.

UND posted an overall 20-35 record in 2011 and for the first time since transitioning to Division I, North Dakota could be considered a veteran squad.

UND lost only one senior to graduation in catcher Amber Roth (Shoreview, Minn.) and return nine starters from last year's team. Its roster will consist of two seniors, eight juniors, six sophomores and three freshmen.

NEW LOOK, SAME TEAM

Although returning a majority of its team, there will be a new look to the squad as the lineup cards will be filled out by first-year head coach Eric Oakley.

Oakley helped lead Eastern Michigan to an NCAA Tournament appearance and a Mid-American Conference (MAC) tournament championship in 2007. EMU went 26-18 last season, recording the second-best winning percentage (.591) in program history.

During Oakley's five-year tenure, EMU consistently placed among the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) top 20 grade point averages, including a third-place national finish in 2007. The softball program also received the NCAA Public Recognition Award in 2011 for an Academic Progress Rate (APR) that landed in the top 10 percent of its sport.

"The transition is going well," Oakley said on the transition of taking over at UND. "The team is working hard and has been open to changes. The team has shown me a loyalty to each other, hard work, dedication and an enjoyment for the game."

A FRESH START - TOURNAMENT GALORE

North Dakota will take to the field, opening its season for the fifth-straight year at the Northern Iowa Tournament, against the host Panthers at 5 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 10. In the round-robin tournament, UND will also play Drake and Western Illinois on Saturday, before closing out the tournament against first-year GWC softball member Nebraska Omaha in a non-conference game.

"We want to get our feet under us, but win four games - one game at a time," Oakley said on his goals for the opening weekend.

UND is scheduled to play in six tournaments this season, a substantial part of its nonconference schedule, consisting of 28 of its 42 games on the 2012 calendar. North Dakota opens at the UNI tournament, followed by the Arizona Tournament, Texas A&M-Corpus Christi Tournament, New Mexico Tournament, Washington Tournament and Indiana Tournament.

UND is scheduled for only two double-header features before entering conference play, coming the day before and after the Washington Tournament against Seattle (March 9) and Portland State (March 12).

"Tournaments give you the opportunity to see many different teams in one location," Oakley said. "Variety and good competition are the draw."

"Our hope is to see some great pitching and some good hitters between now and the Great West Conference round-robin weekend. We face top-25 teams in Arizona and Washington, as well as traditionally strong teams in New Mexico, Utah and Cal State-Bakersfield. The competition we face before GWC should prepare us for conference play."

Caralyn Chewning receives her Great West All-Conference medalion from athletics director Brian Faison during a halftime ceremony of a UND football game. Chewning led the Sioux in at-bats (165) as a freshman with a .297 average. She had 19 extra-base hits including nine home runs. Chewning also led the Sioux to five wins in the circle.

Cami Bennett receives her Great West Conferent Tournament Most Valuable Player award from assistant commissioner Mike Sharpe. Bennett helped lead the team to a runner-up finish with .600 average in five games, including eight runs scored.

EARLY TEST AND THE GREAT WEST

The Great West Conference has a new softball membership in Nebraska Omaha, which will be taking over for South Dakota. The 4-team conference now consists of North Dakota, Houston Baptist, Nebraska Omaha and Utah Valley.

All regular season conference games are held during a 3-day stretch, starting on Friday, March 23, in Dallas during the GWC Early Tournament in which each team plays three double-headers. The six games determine the opening seeding for the GWC Tournament, which is also held in Dallas this season, starting on Sunday, May 3. The postseason GWC Tournament is held in a double-elimination format.

The last time GWC tournament was held in Dallas was in 2010 and UND swept its way to its way to the title.

In its third and final season in the GWC, North Dakota has an overall 5-7 record in regular-season conference games, but holds a record of 6-2 in the postseason.

BRONSON FIELD

UND was a perfect 6-0 at its home confines of Bronson Field last season and again has six games scheduled in Grand Forks for 2012. All six games are scheduled within a 4-day span, with three double-headers against South Dakota State, South Dakota and Green Bay on April 9, 10 and 12, respectively.

"We are excited to be hosting strong, Division I rivals at home this season," Oakley said. "This is a good warm-up for the Big Sky Conference home games next year."

A NEW HOME

North Dakota is set to open play in the brand new Big Sky Softball Conference in 2013 in its first year of postseason eligibility.

THE SQUAD

North Dakota returns every position besides behind the plate and Oakley is expecting that experience to pay off dividends this year.

"Anytime you have freshmen play key roles, as was necessary the previous two seasons, you will see a payoff further down the road," Oakley said. "I expect the team to have poise and confidence as they enter the GWC championship weekend."

Juniors Michelle Frank (Chaska, Minn.), Emma Gronseth (Forest Grove, Ore.) and Abby Jo Tometich (Aberdeen, Wash.), along with sophomore Lexa Twist (Winnipeg, Manitoba), are all returning and projected to eat up innings in the circle this season.

Frank led UND last season with a 3.89 ERA in 145.2 innings of work. She picked up eight wins and 124 strikeouts. Gronseth collected seven wins in 127.2 innings with a team-high 130 strikeouts.

"I've seen enough from our pitching staff to feel very confident going in to our first weekend," Oakley said. "They will provide us with an opportunity to win games and should be able to keep us in games. The opening day rotation should involve both Michelle Frank and Emma Gronseth, with the possibility of Lexa Twist seeing some relief innings."

Offensively, UND returns four from last season's All-Great West Softball Team including first teamers in juniors Cami Bennett and Kenna Olsen and second teamers in junior Brittany Baker and sophomore Caralyn Chewning (Both Frank and Gronseth were named All-GWC Second Team).

"I believe we will be a fun team to watch offensively," Oakley said. "I think we'll manufacture runs on offense primarily with the short game, but with long ball capability. This team plays smart defense and our pitchers are capable of shutting down and opponent. That all being said, I'd say our greatest strength is our heart. We will be a team that works hard, never quits and is fun to watch."

Brittany Baker had a team high 13 home runs and 32 RBI in 53 games played during her breakout sophomore season.

Former University of North Dakota two-sport star Casie Hanson received the prestigious Today's Top VIII Award from the NCAA. The NCAA Today's Top VIII Award recognizes current student-athletes who have completed their athletics eligibility for their success on the fields and courts, in the classroom and in the community. The honorees are selected from among more than 100,000 senior student-athletes by the NCAA Honors Committee, which is composed of athletics administrators at member institutions and nationally distinguished citizens who are former student-athletes.
